Example of Intro Video for Teens and Adults.

Watch Example
Here.

There are a few things that you must to do before you record your Intro Video for Teens and Adults.

Appearance.

- The point of a Professional Video is to look the part. Dress smartly, remove any visible piercings or hats. Excluding ear rings for ladies.

- Choose a shirt/dress that is a good color match for the wall behind you. A red shirt for example, will not look good in front of a red or orange color wall.

Body language and stance.

- Decide which side of the camera you want to stand, either left of the screen or right. Most teachers will choose left side as words are read left to right. Words will appear on the opposite side which is why your wall needs to be clear of any writing/stickers or posters. Examples on the next Page.

- If you decide to stand, Stand no more than 30 cm (ruler length) from the wall.
- If you decide to sit, sit in your classroom and record during the day when lighting is natural. Makes editing more bright.

- Smile, Speak loudly and clearly, you can speak in a normal tone as the students listening want to listen to your Accent, Grammar use and fluency. Do not worry about making mistakes, if you do, simply recover and continue. The mistakes can be edited out. But do a short pause after making a mistake before you continue.(Video Editing option).

Recording.

- Use your Phone's camera to record your video if it has a better quality camera than your Laptop. Turn the phone on its side when recording to get Landscape view. Make sure there are no words or images behind you on the wall.

- If you want to use your Laptop, open Voov or Zoom and use their recording feature to record your Video. Your Video needs to be 1 - 2 minutes long. Not shorter or longer.

How to fight the nerves.

Don't worry if you're nervous, it happens to us all. The trick is to either fight it or find a way around it. Since I can't help you fight it, we'll go around.

When you open the recorded use the pause or stop button when recording. Let's say for argument's sake you use Zoom to record. As soon as you hit that record button at the bottom you will hear a voice saying Recording in progress. Recording will appear top left along with a pause and stop button.

Using Pause.

Using the pause button will really help you fight the nerves. Divide your script into 4 or 5 sections and record your video 1 section at a time. If you make a mistake, you can always pause again and edit it out later. If you're using Teacher's Pet Video Editing service, we will edit these mistakes out for you. You simply need to take a breath and keep recording.

If your video is paused it will not be recording, gather your thoughts, check your script for what to say next and hit the play button once you're ready to record section 2 of your script. Once you reach the end of section 2, simply hit pause again. Do the same with the remaining sections. When you're done, hit the stop button and stop the recording and exit the software.

Zoom will convert the Video for you. When you watch the video, you'll see where you paused the video. Some teachers have mastered this way of recording their video and managed to make it look amazing.

Using the stop button.

Same strategy, but hit the stop button instead. Zoom will record 3 - 6 different smaller videos which you will then be able to combine at a later stage with video editing software. You can also send it to Teacher's Pet and we'll edit it for you. This way, if you make a mistake, you don;t have to start from scratch. You can simply rerecord the section where you made the mistake. Very useful when you watch the videos afterwards and notice mistakes that need to be recorded again.

Script 1

Hi, my name's …….. I'm 24 years old and I'm an Online English Teacher. I have a TEFL certification and bachelor's degree in graphic design from York University and Sheridan College. I'm patient, passionate, hard-working, adventurous and love working with children. Since the age of 15, I have camp counselled, coached gymnastics, tutored English, taught art and I'm currently working with Princess Cruises in the entertainment department hosting activities for children every half hour.

Additionally I have worked in supervisory administrative and management positions. I'm super excited about new experiences and learning opportunities and I really hope I have the opportunity to work with you. My Lessons are Grammar focused and tailored to my student's individual needs. I like to speak to my students and ask them what their weaknesses are so that I can help them with improvements. Be it pronunciation, grammar, vocabulary or fluency.

I like teaching my students synonyms of different words so that they can learn new ways of expressing their thoughts. Synonyms are words that are spoken differently but have the same meaning. This will help you grow your Vocabulary and help you communicate with International friends and colleagues.

I can't wait to hear from you soon.

Goodbye for now.

Script 2

Hi, my name is (name) and I'm here to help you to improve your English. I'm from the United States of America (Do not mention where you are from, let the student guess your Accent origin) where I received my Bachelor's Degree in International Studies. I've been living abroad for about 2 years now, where I have been teaching English to a wide range of students, including children, teenagers, and adults.

My adult students are from multiple different professional backgrounds and I enjoy integrating relevant topics into our classes so that you will be able to use them in daily conversations. I believe that the best way of learning English is to have the student speak as much as possible so that they feel more comfortable using it in different types of contexts and experiences.

My hobbies include petting my cat, drawing, going abroad, and also reading various types of books. I also really enjoy speaking with people from all over the world, including my students, but also other fantastic people that I've met. My goal is to help you speak English fluently and naturally in different settings.

Now that you know a little bit about me, I can't wait to learn more about you. Hope to see you soon!

Script 3

Hello, my name is…. I am …..years old and I'm a Qualified TEFL Teacher.
(Do not mention where you are from, allow the student to guess your Accent's origins).

As a seasoned online English teacher, I bring a lot of knowledge and skill to the virtual classroom, making me a great fit for teaching folks aged 18 to 65. My teaching style is flexible and inclusive, recognizing that adults come from all different backgrounds and have various ways of learning. Whether you're just out of high school or a working professional aiming to improve your English for career growth, I adapt my teaching to suit your specific needs. With my extensive experience teaching online, I'm equipped to create fun and interactive lessons that support your learning journey.

My teaching approach focuses on practicality and relevance, emphasizing communication skills that you can use right away in your daily life or job. I use a mix of resources like videos, articles, and interactive exercises to keep things interesting and help you understand better.

Now, before I say goodbye, let's get into a hands-on English lesson. Today, we're going to work on building your travel and tourism vocabulary. Imagine you're planning a trip abroad and need to book a place to stay. Let's practice some essential phrases for making a hotel reservation.

Repeat after me: "Hi, I'd like to book a room for [number] nights from [date] to [date]." "Do you have any rooms available?" "What's the price per night?" "Does the room include breakfast?" Keep practicing these phrases until you feel comfortable using them in real-life situations. Remember, being confident is key when learning a new language! (This is just an example but you get the point, teach the viewer something in your Intro).

I hope that this Video has helped you in some way and I can't wait to see you in my Classroom real soon.
Goodbye for now.

How do I send my Video afterwards?

Sending your Introduction Video to Companies.

Now let's look at sending your Intro Video along with your other documents like your TEFL Certificate, Resume and cover letter. Some Teachers try to attach their Introduction Video to their e-Mail and notice that their Video exceeds the 25MB file size that their e-Mail provider gives them. As a Result, they upload their video to Youtube and include a Youtube link in their e-Mail.

Please, Do not send the company a Youtube link to your Introduction Video. If you're applying to a Chinese company they might not be able to view it. In my years of experience recruiting Teachers for Chinese companies, I have found out that the Companies tend to skip your Introduction video if it's a Youtube link. They don't do this because they're lazy or not interested, they do this because they can't view it. China has Wechat because their government has banned Youtube for it's harmful Video content. Which to me makes sense, because look at what our kids are watching on Youtube these days. As soon as they click on that link, their Device will give them a "Restricted" message. Instead of telling you that they can't view the Video, they simply move on to the next candidate. So let's look at some alternatives.

Google Drive/Loom/Clipchamp.

Some companies require you to send your Video via email but the problem is that Gmail only allows files of up to 25MB per emails. This is where Google Drive, Loom or Clipchamp comes in handy. There are various ways to send your Introduction Video, above are 3 examples.
The easiest and best way for me personally is with Google Drive. Google Drive is cloud based storage and it allows you to upload documents, images and videos worth 15GB. This comes in handy because you can create a folder on your laptop and call it "My Teaching Application" or "Teaching documents". You can then insert not only your TEFL Certificate, Resume and other documents but you can insert your Intro Video as well.
For the sake of this example, let's just assume you want to insert your video only. Go on Google and search Google drive, create an account and follow the prompts till you reach your dashboard.

Step by Step:

- Once you're on your Google Drive Dashboard.
- Click Top left you'll see +New.
- Choose Upload Folder if it's a folder or file if it's the Video.
- Choose the file or folder and click open. Choose upload if asked.
- Once it has completed bottom right click X to close the small window.
- Behind the small window you'll see Manage Access.
- Click on it and switch Restricted to Anyone can view. (This will grant viewer Access to view or download).
- Click on "Copy link" bottom left.
- Go to your email or where you have to paste the link in a form and right click to paste.

Now, the viewer will be able to click on the link and view everything that is in that file/folder. If the viewer replies that it's asking for permission then it means the Manage Access is still on Restricted. Some companies have a form on their Website which you need to fill in, on the form it'll prompt you to upload your video or insert a link, this is when you copy and paste your Google Drive or Loom link for the company to view.

Introduction Video Editing.

(R250 - Paid Option)

Teacher's Pet will Provide:

- The Niche Specific Script.
- Sounds/Music/Visuals of your choice.
- Video Editing.

Video editing allows us to create visually engaging content that immediately grabs the attention of your learners. By using fun graphics, animations, and transitions, the video becomes more enticing and keeps the viewer hooked from start to finish.

With video editing, Teacher's Pet can enhance the visual appeal of your self-introduction video. We can use effects like color correction, filters, and overlays to make the video look polished and professional. This not only attracts young learners but also appeals to teens and adults who appreciate high-quality content.

Video editing enables Teacher's Pet to showcase your personality effectively. We can use creative techniques like split-screen, picture-in-picture, and text overlays to express your enthusiasm, friendliness, and passion for teaching English. This helps to establish a strong connection with your audience, making you more relatable and approachable.

By incorporating soft, fun music in the background, Teacher's Pet can create a lively atmosphere that appeals to your learners. The use of sound effects like applause or laughter can also add an element of interactivity and entertainment to the video, making it more enjoyable for viewers of all ages.
